Mark and Mary Willenbrink are the authors of North Light's Absolute Beginner series. Mark trained as a commercial artist and worked in advertising, then as a freelance illustrator. He teaches and is a contributor to Watercolor Artists magazine.

I first loaned this from the library to see what it was like before I bought it due to me never finding a book that really shows you everything and I am glad I bought it , its the best buy I have bought in books that shows you basically everything . Shipping great , book condition great , a must buy

I got this after checking out the books in my local library. I think this is a great resource for a beginner like me. Many clear instructions and tips/hints for success. I also like that it covers drawing and painting with water colors and oils. Glad to have this book!

Book is good, but a lot of the material is covered in Mark's other books, which I already own. It really is a good beginner's book!

I saw this book in a retail store and fell in love with it, but didn't want to pay the high price. I was able to get it through for much less. It is an excellent book for beginners. A great deal!

This is a wonderful book to start learning to draw and paint. And for us who have been away from it for a while, it is a nice refresher course.

Very easy to follow the illustrations.

Good basic information for non-painters and beginners.

Great book! Easy to use.
